Letters To The Editor

MONTEREY PENINSULA
AIRPORT DISTRICT
P. O. Box 550, Phone 2-8169
Monterey, California

July 11, 1957

Mr. Charles P. McHarry,
Attorney at Law,
Professional Building,
Monterey, California.

Dear Charlie:

The purpose of this letter is to place on record my objections to the signing of contract argreement No. C 4 CA-4229-A between the Monterey Peninsula Airport District and the Civil Aeronautics Administration.

Although this agreement was, in fact, signed by the Chairman of the District on July 3 with the approval of the Directors (myself excepted), I believe the signing was detrimental to the best interests of the Airport District, was unnecessary and, without radical modification, will prove unworkable.

As you know, the agreement calls for the purchase of an unspecified number of acres of land at the east end of Runway 28, generally referred to as "The Work Property," "The Cadematori Restaurant Property," and a portion of the "Salinas - Monterey Highway," as clearly indicated by a map accompanying the agreement. As you know, the Federal Government threatened to withhold all "grants in aid" to the Airport unless the agreement was signed by the Board, even though no price had been set as an upper or lower ceiling for the purchase.

The reason the Government gave for forcing this immoral contract upon the Airport District was . . . (a) Federal aid would only be given to airports that complied with the Doolittle Plan . . . (b) To comply with the Doolittle Plan the Monterey Peninsula Airport would need to own a 2500-foot clear zone at the east end of Runway 28 . . . (c) Unless the Airport District acquired the land in question, Federal aid would be withheld from an airport lighting project upon which the contracts had already been let and upon which the Government had agreed to contribute about 55% of the cost.

The irony of the situation is that the Airport District already owns 2500 feet of clear space at the end of Runway 28 and complies with the Doolittle Plan in every respect. The Government, however, takes the stand if Runway 28 is ever extended we would then have insufficient clear zone. The Directors in the nine years I have been a member of the Board have never seriously considered extending any runway on the airport, and to extend Runway 28 would, in my opinion, be a million - dollar mistake.

In the first place, the present runways are of adequate length for the safe operation of all private, commercial, or airline feeder-type planes now operating or in the design stage or contemplated within the next 25 years.

Second, a runway extension would tempt the military services to land military jets at the Monterey Airport which, from a community safety factor, would be completely undesirable. Military jets as presently designed are flying fuel tanks. At take-off a military jet is not maneuverable for at least three miles after leaving the runway, a malfunction could cause a crash which would spread thousands of gallons of burning fuel over a wide area. We can prevent this by keeping the runways just as they are.

Third, even if the District eventually decided it was desirable to acquire more land at the east end of the Airport, the land could be acquired by purcase in the normal way or by condemnation and purchase, but certainly not by the signing of a federal agreement which provides a $30,000 penalty from the District for failure to purchase within two years.

If the Federal Government can force the District to speculate in land holdings as a requirement for the granting of Federal aid in the matter of new runway lights, it could also force the District to hire men out of Washington, or anything else, as a requirement of Federal aid very soon the Federal Government will be running the Monterey Airport instead of the Directors running it.

As I cannot with a clear conscience be a party to this Federal coercion, I am therefore resigning from the Airport Board as of this day and request you to draw up a resolution of acceptance to be submitted at the next meeting of the Board of Directors so they may appoint a successor to serve until the next Airport election.

Kindest personal regards,
Tom Mathews.

SAVE THE PARK BILL

Friends of the California State Parks are urged to write to Governor Goodwin Knight, imploring him to enact into law A. B. 2925, the bill passed by the Legislature to raise the ceiling on oil royalty funds apportioned to the State Parks from 7 to 12 millions. Reports from Sacramento are to the effect that the Governor is considering vetoing the bill. He has until July 17 to let it die by pocket veto.

No one should be more interested in the welfare of the California State Park system than residents of the Monterey Peninsula. Quick action is imperative here.

20th Bach Festival Opens With B Minor Mass Gloria

BY CAROLYN ELSTOB

Somewhere in the auditorium, when the 20th Annual Bach Festival opens Monday night, will be Dene Denny, musician, impresario, creator. She, with the late Hazel Watrous, put a dream to work many years ago, to present the world's great sacred music in an annual Festival week. Today, Carmel is the meeting place of top-flight musicians and those who love great music. Her

Gottes Zeit To Be Sung In Memory Of Noel Sullivan

By Carolyn Elstob

On Tuesday evening one of Bach's most beautiful and moving cantatas, Gottes Zeit, will be sung in memory of the late Noel Sullivan, patron of the arts, accomplished musician, and from its beginning, friend of the Carmel Bach Festival. Through 19 years his generous spirit, his talent and charm touched all connected with the Festival. For many years his beautiful voice was heard in each Festival in the music he loved best. His hospitality, the opening of his beautiful home Hollow Hills in Carmel Valley to the entire cast of the Festival for a day of informal relaxation, was an annual event joyously anticipated. His interest in the development of talent, and his generous unpublicized aid to those who needed it will be long remembered.

Two of Noel Sullivan's devoted friends will sing solo roles in Gottes Zeit, James Schwabacher, tenor, and Winther Andersen, basso. Marie Gibson will appear as soprano soloist and Eva Gustavson, contralto.

Gottes Zeit was one of Bach's earliest cantatas, composed when he was twenty-two years of age. Its touching poignant beauty is enhanced by the simple orchestration for two recorders, two viola da gamba, and harpsichord only. Written in a free form, somber, but radiating hope, its final proclamation is "Into Thy hands I commend my Spirit" followed by a song of Glory.

With the emphasis upon the drama and emotional variability of the music of Johann Sebastian Bach and the great masters of the baroque period, the Carmel Bach Festival will celebrate its 20th Anniversary, July 15 to 21, with Sandor Salgo directing.

Top ranking soloists, vocalists and instrumentalists, the orchestra of 75 and chorus of 60, promise Festival audiences of a week of rare musical experience.

Monday through Sunday evening performances, starting at 8:30 o'clock, are held in the auditorium of Sunset School. See program on page 24.

Ancient instruments are a feature of this year's Festival. Newly discovered or rarely performed compositions from an era past appear on the program.

"New" music of special interest includes: Symphony in D Major by Luigi Cherubini, to be played on Tuesday evening; the Oratorio Judicium Salomonis of G. Carissimi will be sung on Thursday evening. M. A. Charpentier's oratorio The Denial of Peter is scheduled for Friday evening; and on Saturday evening the Symphonia Sacra No. 13, by Heinrich Shuetz.

Notable soloists appearing during the week include: Marie Gibson, soprano; Cora Lauridsen, mezzo; Eva Gustavson, contralto; James Schwabacher, tenor; Alice Ehlers and Ralph Linsley, harpsichordists; Bernhard Abramowitsch, pianist; Nanette Levi, violinist; Eva Heinitz, viola da gamba; Colin and Roberta Sterne, recorders and baroque flute, and Forrest Midtmoen, viola.

Beginning Tuesday, through Saturday, widely varied daily recitals are scheduled: Tuesday at 3:00 o'clock: Ludwig Altman, organ recital, Church of the Wayfarer. Wednesday, 11:00 o'clock: Chamber music recital, Carmel Woman's Club; Thursday, 11:00 o'clock: Lecture by Alfred Frankenstein, art and music critic of the San Francisco Chronicle, Carmel Woman's Club. Thursday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock: Organ recital with Sandor Salgo conducting the Chamber Orchestra, Church of the Wayfarer. Friday, 11:00, recital by Alice Ehlers, harpsichordist, the Two and Three-part Inventions of Johann Sebastian Bach, Carmel Woman's Club. Saturday at 11:00 o'clock, recital by Eva Heinitz, viola da gambist, and Alice Ehlers, harpsichordist, Carmel Woman's Club.

On Sunday, the final day of the Festival there will be a matinee as well as an evening performance of Bach's Passion according to Saint Matthew.

The joyous honor of appearing for 19 years on one annual program has been given to few artists.

Ralph Linsley, top-flight pianist and harpsichordist, personality of rare integrity and charm, has through 19 Bach Festivals returned to Carmel, with an ever widening circle of friends who revere him for his talent, and love him for himself.

Mr. Linsley's past year has been crowded. As accompanist he played in the Town Hall debut of Gregory Bemko, Los Angeles 'cellist. His tours have taken him across the country, in concert with Boris Christoff, Richard Lewis, Jeanette MacDonald, and Joseph Shuster. For the 11th consecutive season Mr. Linsley has gone on tour as accompanist for Nan Merriman.

During the 20th Anniversary Festival Mr. Linsley will play the harpsichord throughout the week. He will be heard on Saturday evening with Alice Ehlers in the Bach Concerto in C Major for Two Harpsichords.

Acclaimed for his knowledge of music of the Baroque Period, Sandor Salgo returns to the podium for his second season as conductor of the Carmel Bach Festival; and this year's program, with its emphasis upon the drama and variability of sacred music of the Baroque era, with more vocal presentations than ever before, and the introduction of many "firsts," promises, under his direction, to be a rare musical experience.

Mr. Salgo, who is professor of music at Stanford University and conductor of the San Jose Symphony for the past seven seasons, was born in Hungary and educated as a violinist and violist as well as conductor. It is the blending of Salgo's talent as an instrumentalist and his consecrated scholarship that has won him fame, here and abroad. Following a concert at the University of California on June 18, when Mr. Salgo appeared as violin soloist with William Crosten, pianist, he said: "Every conductor should be also an instrumentalist. I feel that my love for the violin and early experience as a violist bring me in closer sympathy with my orchestra."

As the viola member of the Roth String Quartet Salgo made his initial appearances in the United States in 1937. Following a cross country tour he returned to Europe. As guest conductor for the B.B.C. and Halle Orchestras in England he won high praise. In 1939 he came back to this country to join the faculty of Princeton University. Eight years ago Salgo came to the West Coast as assistant professor of music at Stanford University. He was made full professor this Spring.

"Just as I must feel close to every instrumentalist in my orchestra, so I must be in sympathy and accord with the vocalists," states this young conductor. Whether it is a Bach contata or a 20th century opera, the words and music have 'togetherness'. One must dramatize the other."

An individualist, a musician dedicated to his art, Sandor Salgo, conductor of the 20th Anniversary Bach Festival, will bring to his listeners the world's greatest sacred music with the tender nuance and climactic crescendo that has won for him the title, master in his field.

First soprano of the 20th Anniversary Festival will be Marie Gibson, a newcomer to the Festival platform. The young coloratura has already established herself as an artist. On June 30 she was a winner in the San Francisco Opera Debut Auditions.

Featured soloist on KPFI-TV for the past two years, in April, Miss Gibson sang the role of Glorinda in Rossini's La Cenerentola, a Guild Opera production, with John Barnett, associate conductor of the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra, directing.

Winner of the Hollywood Opera Reading Club award for outstanding artistic achievement in vocal arts, popular concert and church soloist, Miss Gibson gained new honors on the East Coast, playing principal roles in Three Wishes for Jamie and Johann Strauss' A Night in Venice.

In 1954 she sang as soprano soloist in Brahm's German Requiem with the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra under the direction of Alfred Wallenstein.

During the Festival she will be heard, on Monday evening, in Bach's sacred cantata No. 80 A Mighty Fortress; on Thursday evening in Carissimi's oratorio The Judgement of Solomon and on Sunday matinee and evening performances of The Passion according to Saint Matthew.

Mrs. Howden Resumes At Homes

Mrs. Grace Howden, recently returned from a trip to the South Seas, Australia and Europe, is resuming her custom of holding an at home on the second Sunday afternoon of each month. First of the afternoon-tea-followed-by-music parties is Sunday afternoon when Mrs. Howden is inviting her friends to call at her home, Carmadon, after 3:00 o'clock.

James Schwabacher, talented, versatile, and a longtime favorite with Festival audiences, will once again sing the role of the Evangelist in Bach's Passion according to Saint Matthew, a role particularly suited to the purity and resonance of his voice.

Mr. Schwabacher will also be heard on Monday evening in the Bach Cantata Ein Festa Burg; and on Tuesday evening in the tenderly beautiful Gottes Zeit to be sung in memory of Noel Sullivan, friend and patron of the Festival, and friend of Schwabacher through many years.

Radio, television, concerts and a weekly stint as operatic disc jockey have brought the voice of James Schwabacher to thousands of listeners during the past year. As an actor as well as a tenor of unique quality, he won praise for his performances with the San Francisco Symphony as Master Peter in the West Coast premiere of De Falla's Master Peter's Puppets.

With the Portland Symphony Mr. Schwabacher sang the tenor role in the Bach B Minor Mass; and he was heard throughout Canada with the C.B.S. Orchestra and in an individual song recital, both programs were broadcast over the trans-Canada network.

He has just completed his second season of Opera Lecture Recitals for the San Francisco and San Jose Guilds; and, next season, will appear on a 17 week television program on station KQED, as principal singer and narrator, The History of Song.

INFORMATION WANTED:

Concerning the collapse and death of HAROLD FELDMAN May 20, 1956, on Reamers Point Beach, Carmel, near mouth of Carmel River. Any person who witnessed this event, or knows of anyone who did witness it, is requested to communicate with Hudson, Martin, Ferrante & Street, attention Webster Street, P. O. Box 112, Monterey, California, or telephone FRontier 5-3151.

A triumph for the Festival management and a delight in store for Festival audiences is the engagement of Eva Gustavson, contralto. Making her initial appearance in Carmel, this dramatically beautiful young singer brings brilliance and thorough vocal and theatrical training to her interpretations.

First night audiences will hear her in the Bach Cantata Ein Festa Burg, when the four soloists, orchestra and chorus will bring the opening night program to its great climax.

On Tuesday evening Miss Gustavson will sing in the Cantata Gottes Zeit, and on Sunday in the two performances of The Passion according to Saint Matthew.

Born in Horten on the Oslo Fjord, the daughter of a violinist and an orchestra conductor, Miss Gustavson grew up in a realm of beauty and music. She was trained for the ballet in early childhood, but when in her teens she showed a voice of extraordinary promise, her training was financed by the grant of the biggest scholarship made in Oslo. It was at the Royal Opera in Stockholm that she studied for two years and made her first appearances, going on to Italy and France.

In the Royal Theatre of Liege, Belgium, the rising young starlet proved her astonishing versatility. Later she was invited to the Theatre de la Monnaie in Brussels to sing Carmen, later to the Nationaltheatret in Oslo where she gave 26 performances in the same role.

In 1948 Eva Gustavson came to the United States. Here her talent, her training in the great opera houses of Europe, and her personal charm and beauty brought reward. Toscanini was casting his forthcoming broadcast performances of Aida in concert form for N.B.C. Miss Gustavson tried out for Amneris in competition with many top flight singers, and was assigned the role. The two performances of the Toscanini Aida Concert were televised nationally.

To fulfill an opera engagement in 1950 the young prima donna returned to Stockholm. She went on to a series of concerts in Scandanavia and Paris.

Appearing for the first time in the Carmel Festival Robert Oliver, bass, will be heard in Monday evening's presentation of Ein Festa Burg and in Sunday afternoon and evening performances of the Saint Matthew Passion.

Mr. Oliver, trained at the Juilliard School of Music in New York, has had experience in radio, television, concert and oratorio. His singing and dramatic interpretation of the role of Abner in the American premiere of Milhaud's David in Hollywood Bowl won high praise from the critics. As soloist with the Roger Wagner Choral and Little Symphony, and the Monday Evening Concerts in Los Angeles, Mr. Oliver's dramatically beautiful voice and versatility mark him an artist of top rank.

New to Festival audiences, Stanley Noonan, baritone, has an enviable reputation in theatre, radio and television.

Mr. Noonan's most recent role as leading man in the coast premier, at Stanford University, of the new opera The Ballad of the Baby Doe won enthusiastic press comment for his acting as well as for his vocal artistry and ability.

"But I didn't start out to sing", Mr. Noonan says. "My first ambition was to play the violin, and my pre-high school years in Sacramento were devoted to the study of the violin, viola and trumpet. During my high school and junior college vacations I played, at various times, all three instruments with Dick Jurgen's Orchestra. Following a national tour with the orchestra I returned to San Francisco, determined to study voice with Easton Kent."

In 1939 the ambitious young baritone came to the attention of the late Gaetano Merola who engaged him for baritone roles with the San Francisco Opera Company for the seasons of 1939 and '40. At the beginning of World War II Mr. Noonan was appearing with the Los Angeles Light Opera Company. He put aside his musical career, and for four years served as anti-aircraft officer in the South Pacific.

Upon his return to the States after the war, a professional singing career again claimed his ambitions and aspirations. Following a nation-wide tour in Up in Central Park, Mr. Noonan, now recognized as a singer and actor of quality, returned to his native state to accept the leading baritone role in Benjamin Britten's opera Peter Grimes, produced by Stanford University and presented at the San Francisco War Memorial Opera House.

Chosen winner on the network Talent Scouts program in New York in the summer of '56, Mr. Noonan has achieved national popularity on the Arthur Godfrey radio and television programs. He is dividing his time between California and New York, making concert and television appearances.

Stanley Noonan will be heard on Friday evening in The Denial of Peter, a profoundly moving composition by Charpentier; and on Sunday afternoon and evening in Bach's The Passion according to Saint Matthew. In both works he sings the poignant role of Jesus.

The National Park Service has just issued the third in a new series of handbooks about the various national parks and monuments. The first one covered Olympic National Park, the second, Rocky Mountain National Park, and the new one deals with Saguaro National Monument in Arizona. It is profusely illustrated with photographs of plant and animal life, contains 64 pages and may be purchased for 30 cents from the Superintendent of Documents in Washington.

I have asked my Assistant Western Representative, Mr. J. F. Carithers, who was for nine years Superintendent of Tucson Mountain Park, only a few miles away from Saguaro National Mounment, and containing an equally fine stand of saguaro, to review the handbook for the readers of my column. Following are his comments:

"It is only recently that there has been a noticeable change in the ideas of a large part of our population about the desert vastness in the southwestern corner of the United States. Twenty-odd years ago the average American looked upon this region as a wasteland, fit only for Indians and cactus. However, this picture has changed considerably in the past few decades. The cactus still has its thorns, the summers are still unbearably hot, but America's eyes have been opened to the

Recognized as a top-flight artist from coast to coast Richard Robinson, tenor, makes his initial appearance this year in the Carmel Bach Festival.

Soloist on the two Columbia Records, Persephone and In Memoriam Dylan Thomas, both composed by and under the direction of Igor Stravinsky, Mr. Robinson appeared with the New York Philharmonic with Stravinsky directing, in January. In Febraury of this year he was soloist with the Collegiate Chorale at New York's Town Hall, in the Bach B Minor Mass; and in April, with the American Choral Society, he appeared again in Town Hall as soloist in Bach's Saint John Passion.

As guest soloist in the La Jolla Festival, in the Los Angeles Festival, and for three consecutive years in the Ojai Festival, Mr. Robinson has gained popularity with the musically informed on the West Coast.

He will be heard in the Charpentier Denial of Peter on Friday and in the Saint Matthew Passion on Sunday.

Baritone Winther Andersen returns to the Bach Festival this year to sing in the movingly beautiful Cantata 106, Gottes Zeit, which will be dedicated to the memory of Noel Sullivan. For five years Mr. Andersen has sung with the San Francisco Opera Company, with frequent appearances in the bay area, interrupted last year by a return to his native Denmark, where he gave a series of recitals.

During the season just concluded, Mr. Andersen sang many roles with the Cosmopolitan Opera Company, was featured with the Marin Symphony in Debussy's L' Enfant Prodigue, under the baton of Sandor Salgo, and was cast in a leading role in Benjamin Britten's Rape of Lucretia, in San Francisco. He was put to severe test when, two days before the opening of the San Francisco Opera last fall, Winther Andersen was asked to replace Hans Blankenburg, ill with flu, a test which he carried off magnificently on the momentous opening night of the season.

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

Ruth Galvin Thornburg, Librarian

This library has a new set of five books on sex which are being shelved at the desk. They are not listed with the new books for the reason that the titles are not sexy enough for the reader to realize what the books are. All are by Marion Lerrigo, and are approved by the National Education Association and the American Medical Association. They are designed for people from age nine years up to the period when the reader is an adult who needs to explain sex to his own small ones. The books themselves are small, well written, and informative. It seems that we must have told you many times just why it is that we shelve books on sex at the desk rather than putting them on the shelves with the rest of the collection. It is because modesty makes many peo-

Cora Lauridsen's beautiful mezzo-soprano voice will be heard for her third successive season in the Festival. A native of Pasadena Miss Lauridsen has been in major orchestra and chamber music programs throughout the West, including many performances of the vocal works of Johann Sebastian Bach.

During the past year Miss Lauridsen has been a featured soloist in Bach cantatas in the widely acclaimed Evenings on the Roof in Los Angeles. Her Festival appearances include the Los Angeles Bach Festival, the Ojai Festival and in 1955 and 1956 the Carmel Bach Festival.

Miss Lauridsen will be heard as soloist on Tuesday evening in cantata No. 60, and on Wednesday morning with Nancy Pearce in the John Blow Ode, with recorders.

For the expert as well as the lover of great music, the appearances of Eva Heinitz with her Viola da Gamba during the Carmel Bach Festival week will be a visual as well as an aural delight.

Madame Heinitz, one of the few contemporary musicians to play this ancient instrument, forerunner of the 'cello, began her notable career in Germany at the age of 17. Trained with Hugo Becker at the Berlin Academy of Music and with Diran Alexanian in Paris, she made many solo appearances with the great orchestras of Europe. At the invitation of Artur Schnabel, the young artist, with her historic instrument, was introduced to New York audiences. She was appointed to the music faculty of the University of Washington, and since has made numerous concert tours of the United States and South America.

Eva Heinitz has participated in Bach Festivals in Strasbourg and in France and will bring to Carmel audiences a rare and beautiful interpretation of Bach masterpieces when she will play in duo with Madame Alice Ehlers at the harpsichord.

On Saturday evening Madame Heinitz' performance of Pfeiffer's Concerto for Viola da Gamba and Orchestra will be one of the Festival's major events.

Joys To End Carmel Visit

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard F. Joy (Schatzi Herron) and their son Christopher, three years old, and daughter Linda, thirteen months, leave by plane on Saturday to return to their home in Montclair, New Jersey, after a six weeks' visit here with Schatzi's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack C. Herron. On Monday Leonard will be back in his law office in New York City.

Gretchen Herron is also in Carmel with her parents for the summer but will return to Endicott Junior College in Beverley, Massachusetts, in the fall.

Charis And Brad Return

Mrs. Bradley Buckminster and her children Diana and Brad Jr. have been back in Carmel for ten days. They are occupying the Short home on Mission Street. On Saturday Brad Sr. will join his family after driving across the continent with his brother Corky. Brad graduated from Princeton last month with a degree in Arabic and Turkish. The Buckminsters are planning to remain here at least three months and "perhaps longer" says Charis, hopefully. Both she and Brad are looking forward to next week's Bach Festival. Charis, whose home is Carmel, has sung with the Festival chorus many times. Both she and Brad were members of the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra string section and active in musical life on the peninsula.

To hear the great Alice Ehlers, harpsichordist, in any program would be a musical experience of delight, but her performance of Bach's Two and Three-Part Inventions promises to be one of the major events of the 1957 Carmel Bach Festival.

When Vienna-born Alice Ehlers came to this country, she had already gained a world-wide reputation of greatness, for her faultless mastery of her 17th century instrument, and her superb interpretation of the major composers of the 16th, 17th and early 18th centuries.

It was her deep and scholarly interest in Bach that brought her into association with Albert Schweitzer, at whose home Madame Ehlers spent considerable time exploring the great keyboard literature of Bach. As founder of the Friends of Old Music, Alice Ehlers gained a world reputation in rediscovering forgotten music of the baroque era. So, with her presentation of Bach's Inventions, the Carmel Festival audience will hear an artist who is first in her field in compositions of first magnitude.

Alice Ehlers' recital of the Two and Three-part Inventions of Johann Sebastian Bach will be heard on Friday morning, July 19 at the Carmel Woman's Club. She will also be heard in a Haydn concerto for Harpsichord and Orchestra on Friday evening, and again on Saturday morning in a sonata recital with Eva Heinitz, Viola da Gamba artist.

Dr. Ehlers is professor of music at the University of Southern California.

"One of the truly colossal events of the year", wrote Alfred Frankenstein, music critic of the San Francisco Chronicle, in review of a recent recital given at the San Francisco Museum of Art by Bernhard Abramowitsch, pianist, who will make his first appearance in Carmel during the 1957 Bach Festival. Continuing the Frankenstein review of Abramowitsch one reads, "richness and grandeur of tone, depth of musical philosophy and perfection in musical mechanics characterized (his) playing."

A native of Hamburg, Germany, Bernhard Abramowitsch came to the United States 20 years ago. He is on the faculty of the College of the Holy Names and the University of California Extension Division; and teaches privately in Berkeley where he lives.

Appearing for the first time on the Carmel Festival program, Mr. Abramowitsch will play the Klavier music of Johann Sebastian Bach on Friday evening.

Carmelita Gallery Reopens

When the artist, William P. Silva, came to Carmel in 1912, one of the first things he did was to build a gallery on San Antonio Street. Here, for the next 36 years, were shown his paintings of France, Spain, and many parts of the United States. He left his collection to his son, Abbott Silva. As the time approaches for the hundredth anniversary of his father's birth, Abbott decided that the Gallery should be reactivated and the public given a chance to see his father's remaining paintings.

Rita Tufts, an artist, will be in charge. The gallery is open daily from 2:00 to 5:00 o'clock in the afternoon.

Kurt Cuba Bound

Kurt von Meier is leaving by car this week for Cuba. He plans to drive down the West Coast of Mexico to Guatemala. There he will visit friends who own a vineyard. Leaving his car with these friends, Kurt will travel by "jungle plane" to Flores in the Guatemalan tropical rain forest district of Peten. Then he plans to go by "mahogany train" to Belize on the Caribbean coast of British Honduras. How Kurt will cross the Straits of Yucatan to Cuba is as yet uncertain. He is hoping to acquire a small sailing vessel and "a companion with a sense of adventure" to make the crossing with him. "If not, there are freighters," says Kurt.

The Isle of Pines, southwest of Cuba, is his ultimate destination. Kurt plans to be back here in two months' time to resume his senior year studies at the University of California at Berkeley.

Smiths Have Open House

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Haliday Smith entertained at an open house on Saturday evening. Among the guests was a mysteriously silent lady who spent the entire evening surveying other guests from a vantage point in the garden. Those who took pity on the lady's isolation, braving her malevolent yet seductive silence, found the mystery woman was a fashionably dressed blonde mannikin who had come to the party from the display department of a local department store.

Flashes of greatness, of periodic inspiration and periodic acclaim are given to many artists. But it is steady growth, the lavish outpouring of beauty, the masterly craftmanship year upon year that have starred the name of Ludwig Altman.

A gala year for Mr. Altman, 1957 marks his ninth Carmel Bach Festival and his twentieth anniversary as organist of Temple Emanu-El, San Francisco.

Mr. Altman will give two recitals this year at the Church of the Wayfarer, the first on Tuesday afternoon, the second on Thursday afternoon, both at 3:00.

He was educated at the University of Berlin and the State Academy for Church and School Music, Berlin, and came to San Francisco in 1937. His calendar records his achievements: San Francisco Symphony Orchestra since 1937; University of California Extension (organ courses) since 1940; Ninth Church of Christ, Scientist, San Francisco, since 1950; Palace of the Legion of Honor since 1952; plus his Temple Emanu-El duties for the past 20 years. During this past Christmas season Mr. Altman played Bach's Christmas Oratorio and Lully's Te Deum with the San Francisco Symphony, under the direction of Enrique Jorda. In Berkeley he was organist in the presentation for the first time of Sessions' Mass for unison chorus and organ.

In June Mr. Altman appeared with San Francisco Symphony members in organ concertos, under the direction of Conductor Sandor Salgo, at the Legion of Honor auditorium.

Acclaimed as one of the Bach Festival's outstanding artists, and loved for her personal charm, Nannette Levi returns to Carmel as violin soloist and sixth season as Concert Mistress. Nannette and her talented husband, William Harry, 'cellist, will be greeted by a salvo of welcome from local friends as well as visitors from all parts of the nation here to attend the Festival.

For her initial performance in the 1957 Festival, Miss Levi will play the Concerto in A Minor for Violin and Orchestra, on opening night. On Thursday evening she will be soloist in Mozart's Serenade No. 7, Haffner. Mr. Harry and Mr. Midtmoen and Miss Levi, programmed as the Artaria String Trio, will appear in the Wednesday morning recital of Chamber Ensembles at the Carmel Woman's Club.

Absent last season, Miss Levi and Mr. Harry were members of the Master Classes of Pablo Casals at the Summer Academy of Music in Zermatt, Switzerland. "I was the only violinist in the class of 16 'cellists . . ." wrote Nanette to Dene Denny, "and probably one of the greatest thrills of my life came when, after playing the Bach C Major Fugue, the Great Casals cried 'Bravo!' . . ."

Miss Levi and Mr. Harry returned to the San Antonio Symphony Orchestra last Autumn to continue an association of five years with that organization. During the past season the brilliant young violinist has won approval for her performance of the concertos of Tschaikowsky and Mozart with the San Antonio and Abilene Symphony Orchestras.

Making her first appearance in the Carmel Festival, D. Antoinette Handy, flutist, at present a faculty member of the Metropolitan School of Music, New York City, will be heard as the solo flute in the B minor Overture on Monday evening, and as flute soloist on Wednesday morning.

Miss Handy was born in New Orleans, the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. W. Talbot Handy, Sr. She was awarded a B.M. degree at the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston. As a flute major she continued her studies at Northwestern University.

In 1955, with a master's degree, Miss Handy went on to the Conservatoire de Musique de Paris where she studied with Gaston Grunelle, first flutist of the Opera Comique.

Her orchestral experience has taken this young artist half way around the world. From the Chicago Civic Orchestra Miss Handy went as first flutist to the Orchestra International in Paris, and then on tour throughout Germany. Returning to the United States in January of 1956, she was heard in concert with the Symphony of the Air, New York City.

Last October Miss Handy was heard as soloist in New York City's Cooper Union in Music in the Making Concert, David Broewman, conducting.

Then, enroute to New York, she will stop at Arlington, Williamsburg, and Annapolis. "The climax will be," Bonnie says, "the Stork Club and 21." Bonnie will be a junior at the University of California next Fall.

With emphasis throughout the week upon ancient instruments and the revival of music of the 16th and 17th centuries long unheard, the performances of Roberta and Colin Sterne promise a new musical experience. Using 16th century recorder and baroque flute the Sternes will play Teleman's Concerto composed especially for those long "lost" instruments of three centuries ago.

The Sternes are expert flutists, with a background of study at the Juilliard School in New York and the Conservatoire in Paris. They became interested in musical instruments of antiquity in 1947.

Today, at the University of Pittsburgh, where Mr. Sterne is assistant professor of Music Literature and History, and Mrs. Sterne is member of the faculty in the department of Modern Languages, their collection attracts antiquarians as well as students of music from all parts of the world.

Colin Sterne plays the lute, cittern, viol, and baroque flute; Mrs. Sterne, the keyboard instruments and viol. They are both acknowledged without rival in their playing of the recorders.

First Theatre Review . . .

By William Kapp

Bouquets to the Denny-Watrous management of the First Theatre of Monterey for the melodrama in the best early American tradition that had its opening on July 4. The Wages of Sin has everything. With emotional impact that literally walloped the audience, the actors sob, swoon, shout and sin right up to the final curtain, when, to everybody's joy, the sinners are either sorry or, violently dead — and love and virtue triumph.

Praise to Director Rhea Diveley, who in her eight years of casting and directing winners at the First Theatre has topped them all.

The beautiful heroine, beloved for her beautiful character by the handsome young parson and coveted by the rattiest of villains for her beautiful bankbook, is played by golden-haired Diane Wieland, a newcomer to the Peninsula via San Diego State College and U.C. L.A., where she majored in dramatics. As Ruth she runs the gamut of emotions from girlish giggles to her finish (almost), the victim of the villain's murderous intent. Her amnesia gropings were particulary realistic though her clinches with the man of her dreams seemed a bit stand-offish.

He, the steadfast young cleric, who shows himself to be a two-fisted lad in the rescue of his rather battered maiden from a den in the Bowery, is portrayed by Winston Elstob. Newly arrived with his wife and young family from London, to live in Carmel, this new leading man is the answer to the teen agers dream, very handsome indeed.

Major Laurence Lansing plays the villain with every fiendish twist in the book. An experienced performer, he wins whole-hearted hisses through five acts and then, with a delightful twinkle in his eye and wide smile, earns happy applause as M.C. during the Olio.

For good measure this drama of virtue versus violence boasts two wronged ladies. Black-haired, wraithlike, with magnificently sorrowful eyes, Eunice Bosson as Barbara Dale plays her tragic role with sustained intensity. A native of Pennsylvania, she is in private life Mrs. James Bosson whose husband is a specialist in the Burmese Department of the Army Language School.

Supporting this quartet of talent, and each giving excellent performances are Dave Mayo, a favorite with First Theatre audiences, subtle and gay in his dastardly double crossing; Fred Elstob, the very pompous, very rich, very very soft-hearted mill owner; diminutive Mitti Decker who, with Allen Graham, introduces a counter love theme. Madeleine Hicks, the First Theatre's much loved character actress plays the dazed and bedazzled mother of a genius, Jean Lansing, who emotes magnificently. William Hitchcock as the New York cop, and Jose Romero, butler, played their indispensable bits convincingly.

Altogether it is an elegant show. Director Diveley selecting her cast from local aspirants showed perception in picking her types. For a bit more than two hours the opening night audience hissed the villain, called beseechingly for the hero to come save the fair lady, roared at the comics, and, at the finish, applauded thunderously.

The drama was followed by ten acts of Olio, contrived and directed by Rhea Diveley and members of her cast, plus pretty little Judy Gustofson of Salinas, whose dancing and singing were a delight; and Joyce Landry, Theatre librarian, fourth of the quartette of fetching young ragamuffins who sing and dance in Fishing. Funniest of all the acts was The Singing School when Winston Elstob and Laurence Lansing, both six footers, liltingly lisp and mincingly dance as two of the sweetest little girls imaginable. Insistent calls for encore were awarded Jose Romero, teacher of Spanish, Army Language School, whose rich baritone voice and charming personality delighted the listeners.

Then there is How Little Nell Founded Los Angeles, and the all-time favorite The Bushes in the Bottom of the Garden.

Members of the First Theatre permanent staff include: Charles Thomas, responsible for the settings; Susan Lee, indispensable at the piano; Rhoda Johnson, costumes; Kay Knudsen, lights; Dave Mayo, stage manager; William Hitchcock, assistant; Joyce Munday, librarian.

Special mention is due Rhoda Johnson for her expertness in executing the costumes worn throughout the evening. True to period in every detail, they do much to create the atmosphere of an era passed.

The summer production will run Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings every week, until after Labor Day.

The Reynolds On Honeymoon

Former Carmel librarian Miss Hortense Berry is at present honeymooning in Europe with her husband Dr. Harry B. Reynolds of Palo Alto. The couple was married several weeks ago in Stanford Memorial Chapel, Palo Alto, by University Chaplain the Reverend Robert M. Minto.

After a few days in Palo Alto Dr. and Mrs. Reynolds left by polar air route to Copenhagen and a three weeks' visit in Scandinavia. Then they planned to fly to Ireland, pick up a car in Dublin, and tour the Continent for five or six months, perhaps longer.

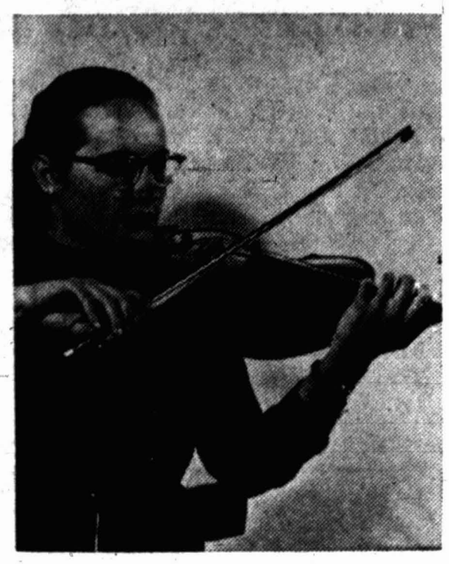
Featured on Tuesday evening's program will be Raymond Duste, oboist, who will leave the first oboe chair to play Albinoni's Concerto for Oboe and Orchestra.

A student while still in his teens at the San Francisco Conservatory, Mr. Duste's first engagement was with the Sacramento Symphony under the direction of Willem van den Burg. When his Army service sent him to the East Coast he found opportunity to work with the world renowned oboist, Marcel Tabuteau.

Since his return to California this talented musician has appeared as soloist with the Little Symphony of San Francisco, and the Palo Alto Sinfonietta. Besides a full teaching schedule Duste has during the past winter played with the Cosmopolitan Opera, San Francisco Ballet, the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra and the New York City Ballet Orchestras; and has made recordings with the Little Symphony of San Francisco under the Fantasy Label.



With intervals for study in Europe, Mary James, who will be first violist in the 1957 Festival, looks back to 1947 when she made her initial bow to Carmel audiences. During the past ten years she has participated in six Bach Festivals.

Winner of the Hertz scholarship, the young musician studied in Vienna, Munich and London, 1952 to 1954. As first violist she played in the State Academy of Music Orchestra in Vienna where she was awarded her diploma in 1954.

During the past year Miss James was first violist with the Little Symphony of San Francisco, and in the San Francisco Conservatory Orchestra. In June of 1956 she was awarded her Bachelor of Music Degree. As substitute violist for the San Francisco Symphony, and making numerous solo appearances on chamber music and concert programs, her musicianship has attracted favorable interest and comment among West Coast music critics.

CARMEL SWIM TEAM AT MONTEREY SATURDAY MORNING

Buoyed up by a strong showing in the 20-30 Meet at Pacific Grove on the 4th of July, the Carmel swim team travels to Monterey Saturday morning for a 9:30 meet with the Monterey and Pacific Grove natators. In the 20-30 Meet, the Carmel swimmers took second place behind the powerful San Leandro Beavers who walked away with the championship trophy. Carmel swimmers who contributed points in the Club meet were: Doyle Clayton, Don Smith, Les Laky, Ann Giles, Ginger Laky, David Rosenkranz, Keith Kneedler, and Ronnie Jella.

Saturday's meet at Monterey will be the second between Carmel and Monterey this season. In the first meet, the Carmel splashers walloped Monterey, 129 to 71, at the Carmel pool. However, Monterey has done a lot of recruiting since the first meeting and last week dunked Pacific Grove, 151 to 43.

CARMEL MERCHANTS LEAD PACIFIC GROVE LEAGUE

Paul Artellan's Carmel softball team took over the top spot in the Pacific Grove Recreation Softball League by winning a close, 2-0, decision from Shirley's Engines, first half champions. The Merchants are now riding a three-game win streak in second half play and have been established as favorites to cop the second round flag. In the big win over Shirley's Engines, the Village nine waited until the final inning before pushing across the deciding markers. Carmel pitcher, Paul Ricketson, was locked up in a scoreless duel with Shirley's Ernie Cooper until the big seventh when the local pastimers jumped on Cooper for two runs and the ball game. Dick Weer, who hit a solid 2 for 3 in the game, contributed the big blow in the Carmel rally by hitting a sharp single with two runners on the paths. Both pitchers hurled four-hit ball but the steady Ricketson was more effective in the tight spots and threw blanks at Shirleys over the entire route.

In a recent barnstorming trip into the San Joaquin Valley, the Merchants ran into a red-hot team at Escalon where they were tripped up in a double-header, 4-1 and 5-2. Efforts are being made to line up some of the better softball teams from San Jose and Santa Cruz for showings at Sunset Field.

FORMER CARMEL ATHLETE PICKED FOR ALL-STAR GAME

In the Northern California Examiner East-West baseball classic last week, Grimm Mason, former Carmel athlete, was selected as the outstanding player and earned a trip to New York to participate in the All-Star game at the Polo Grounds. Grimm completed the eighth grade at Carmel and then moved to Watsonville where he was an outstanding athlete for the Wildcats. After finishing high school, the versatile Mason entered Monterey Peninsula College where he participated in football and baseball. Chosen on the all-conference football squad and apparently a cinch to repeat in baseball, Grimm left the Lobos in mid-season to seek higher education at

WATER
The Most Important Thing In Life

No matter how carefully designed and constructed, a public water system is never completed. Water mains must inevitably follow a city's growth, and in most cases, must actually precede it.

There are three principal reasons for extending or increasing the size of water mains:

First, to serve new territory;

Second, to improve service to territory already being supplied;

Third, to install permanent construction in advance of street improvement.

Expenditures of the first class, when wisely made, produce additional revenue from new water sales. To some extent this is true of the second class. But rarely, if ever, is additional revenue produced by an expenditure of the third category. Therefore, such expenditures are regarded as contributions to the common good. Consumers are assured that California Water & Telephone Company will continue its policy of installing new and larger mains, fire hydrants and other facilities to maintain the highest possible degree of water service.

John Monroe Married

All Saints' Episcopal Church was decorated with arrangements of white stock and gladiola and lighted with white tapers for the marriage of Margery Kenner to John Monroe at 8:00 o'clock in the evening on June 29. The Reverend Angus Dun Jr., assisted by the Reverend Robert Rodenmeyer of Berkeley, performed the ceremony before a large gathering of friends.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, Mr. Charles E. Kenner of Newport Beach, wore a white lace princess gown. Streamers of white velvet fell from a bow placed high on the back of her dress to form a train. Her finger tip veil was held in place by a coronet of white satin, and she carried an arrangement of white orchids, lilies of the valley and stephanotis.

Mrs. John W. Nichols of San Lorenzo, the bride's sister, was matron of honor. Other attendants were Mrs. John Kenner, Miss Renee Elliott and Miss Nancy Williams. They wore similar sky blue dresses, made with lace bodices and full organza skirts. Short face veils fell from their satin coronets. The matron of honor carried a nosegay bouquet of tiny garnet roses, and the bridesmaids like bouquets of pink elf roses.

John Kenner Jr., nephew of the bride, was ringbearer. Deborah Monroe, niece of the groom, was flower girl in a white organdy dress and carried a basket of elf roses.

H. William Monroe of Carmel was best man, and ushers were John Silva, Douglas Delahook and L. G. von Schottenstein, Alpha Delta Phi fraternity brothers of the groom.

The reception following the ceremony was in the main dining room of La Playa hotel where Mrs. Kenner received the guests at her daughter's wedding in a rose taffeta dress with silver accents matching her tiny hat of silver leaves.

Mrs. Monroe, mother of the groom, wore a dress of pale pink lace over taffeta with flower trimmed veiling in her hair.

The young couple will make their home in Berkeley after a honeymoon at Yosemite and Lake Tahoe.

John, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Monroe of Carmel, attended Stanford University for two years after graduating from Carmel High School in 1952. He interrupted his studies for two years' army service spent in Europe after graduating from the Russian department of the Army Language School at the Presidio. He is now studying at the University of California in Berkeley, working towards a degree in electronic engineering.

His bride attended Orange Coast College and before her marriage completed her junior year at San Jose State College where she was a member of Phi Mu sorority.

Oregon State College. Highly regarded as a football prospect but unknown in baseball, Mason tried out for the Oregon State freshman team and was picked as the outstanding player on the squad. When the Examiner baseball school came to Watsonville in June, Grimm joined up for the tryouts and showed enough stuff to play in the classic and eventually earn the coveted trip to New York.

MIKE COLE YOUTH CENTER SHUFFLEBOARD CHAMP

Mike Cole outshuffled a couple of other Mikes to win the Carmel Youth Center's Shuffleboard Tournament Tuesday night. Cole had to dispose of Mike Byrne and Mike Bein before getting the job done but the cool righthander was on target all the way and won a convincing victory over runner-up, Mike Byrne. Phil O'Shea, Carmel High sophomore, made a run for the crown but had to settle for fourth place when Mike Bein clipped him in the semi-finals.

With the table tennis and horseshoe tournaments coming up and softball action in the Monday night league and the Monterey Socko league, the Youth Center athletes will be plenty busy during the next six weeks.

GILBERT BOYER ON CONCERT TOUR

Absent this year, because of concert engagements on the East Coast, Gilbert Boyer, choral assistant to Conductor Salgo, will be greatly missed. Up until the last minute, before his departure Mr. Boyer gave his time and talent to the Chorus rehearsals held under the auspices of the Carmel Adult Education program. His activities in musical events on the Peninsula and his Carmel Studio of Music have won admiration and a wide circle of friends.

Asked when she started thinking about the 1957 Bach Festival, Angie Machado, who with Gilbert Boyer is choral assistant to Conductor Salgo, answered, "The day the 1956 Festival ended. I wasn't here, I was in Europe attending every Festival I possibly could."

Of the Prague Festival, Miss Machado said that the great emphasis upon their devotion to the music itself impressed her most. In Salzburg and Innsbruck the timing of the Tyrolean Folk Singers won her admiration. "The Folk Festival at Dachau was beautiful and heart-stirring," she said.

With the Carmel Bach Festival in her thoughts, Miss Machado gave keen attention to rehearsal procedures, attending rehearsals of the major orchestras and choral groups wherever possible.

"Carmel, and the Festival, never seemed far away," she concluded. "In Zermatt I ran into Nanette Levi and her husband William Harry, at the Pablo Casals recital, and in Vienna I talked with Charles and Jean Fulkerson, veteran soloists of the Carmel Festival."

Angie Machado, teacher of piano at Monterey Peninsula College and choir mistress at Santa Catalina School for Girls, is also known on the Peninsula for her private piano instruction, her concert appearances, and the evenings of Chamber Music in her own beautiful studio. Identified first with the Festival in 1946, she plays an essential role in its production.

ple too shy to charge out books on sex. They steal them instead. To keep replacing them would make great inroads into our book budget. So you have to ask for them, and if you are not sure just which ones you want, we will give you an armload to browse through until you find the one which meets your need.

This week we have a copy of the latest book from the pen of Henry Miller of Big Sur, and the title of it is Big Sur and the Oranges of Hieronymous Bosch. The publishers state, "In his great triptych called The Millennium Bosch used o r a n g e s and other fruits to symbolize the delights of Paradise. Henry Miller has found that this p a i n t i n g encompasses what he feels about an earthly paradise on the rugged California coast south of Monterey . . . The whole builds up to a cumulative testament of a man who has fought clear of the cliches of modern life to find within himself his now kind of paradise." For some reason this reminds us that not too long ago a bright young man came striding into the library and asked the attendant at the desk if Henry Miller lived in Carmel. She explained to him just where Henry Miller lived, and to this the young man responded with another question, namely, "Is he at home this morning?"

What does the thought of a summer kitchen mean to you? If you are lucky, it may mean a small building close to the house where your grandmother or great grandmother did her cooking during the hot summer months. Louise Andrews Kent has brought us another Mrs. Appleyard book and this one is called The Summer Kitchen. Here we find warmth, humor, and recipes for matchless food which people like to eat in the summer time. Do try them and remember some of the good cooking which used to come from your own grandmother's summer kitchen.

In case you w i s h to k n o w what you may be facing 20 years from now, or in case you think you may not be here 20 years from now, read Peter Drucker's new book America's Next Twenty Years. Mr. Drucker is a lawyer-economist, a college professor, and a writer. He says that events which will shape America for the next 20 years have already happened. His deductions and his book are results of having observed these events.

A large book, beautifully illustrated, is Venice Observed by Mary McCarthy. The autobiography of one of the founders of the motion picture industry is I Blow My Own Horn by Jesse Lasky. The Life and Death of a Raider is the subtitle of the book The Graf Spee by Dudley Pope. Readers will remember the German pocket battleship Graf Spee which was scuttled by her crew during the first months of World War II. This is her story.

There are also six novels, all summer reading, with two mysteries among them. Check the lists on the bulletin board, and better yet, check the new books on the shelves. At least one of them will be waiting there for you!

wealth of beauty, awe-inspiring character, and healthful year-round appeal of this heretofore unpopular land.

"This natural history handbook, written by Natt Dodge, Naturalist for Region 3 of the National Park Service, points up what in my estimation is the determining factor in this change in attitude, namely, the tremendous drawing power of the contrasts of the desert country. In Saguaro National Monument, which is representative of many of the 'Mountain Islands' in the Southwest, we see clearly these contrasts. As the booklet explains most interestingly, in the course of a one-day trip, and in traveling a vertical distance of around 6,000 feet, one will pass through four life zones, comparable to a horizontal distance of over 1,500 miles. In other words, one will encounter plants, animal, and other life forms and conditions that one would ordinarily see in traveling from the State of Sonora, Mexico, to the provinces of southern Canada. And all of this in a land that to the casual observer looks quite dull!

"I feel that I must question one point raised in the booklet that will be of concern to all interested in keeping such areas intact. There are two maps in the booklet, showing the monument, the Rincon-Tanque Verde Range, and their relation to Tucson. Included in these maps in boldly dotted lines is the proposed route of the Desert to Mountain Highway. This proposed road is routed through the finest parts of the monument and ends at a point just under Mica Mountain (elevation 8,590 feet). It is my understanding that a restudy of the proposed road was ordered last year by the National Park Service, and I hope, as do most Arizona conservationists with whom I have talked, that as a result of this restudy, plans for the road will be finally abandoned. If the road were constructed, it would eventually lead to the gradual dilution of this, one of the most unique natural history preserves in our park system. It is now reasonably accessible by trail and is fine hiking and camping country.

"The part of the booklet dealing with various denizens of the desert is especially well done, in spite of the space limitations imposed. It is a "high-spot" narrative, as is the whole booklet, but this reviewer feels that it does not leave one "dangling", as do some abbreviated writings in the field of natural history.

Prepare the roof deck to receive the new roofing as follows:

1. Remove and replace any warped or rotted sheeting and make deck level.

2. Pull out any protruding nails and renail firmly at new nail location.

3. Cover all large cracks, knot holes, loose knots, or pitchy knots, with sheet metal, nails securely nailed to the sheeting.

4. Caution and care shall be exercised so as to protect the present valleys from damage as the present valleys are not to be removed and will be re-used.

5. Contractor shall protect all metal buttress caps from damage of sliding slate while removing slate and tile roofing.

6. Caution and care shall be exercised to protect the present gutters. These may be removed and replaced at the option of the roofing contractor, if by so doing, it expedites the work.

7. The tile ridge is to be removed where now acting as a ridge on the composition roofing. If necessary, extra courses of black composition shingles shall be applied to bring the shingles to the ridge to receive the new ridge.

8. Proceed with reroofing by laying one layer of 15-lb. Celotex-El Rey or approved equal 15-lb. asphalt felt spot-nailed or tacked to the sheeting.

9. Starter strip shall consist of 1 layer of strip shingle laid with cutouts reversed, or one 12" wide strip of mineral surface roll roofing. Starter strips shall project a full ½" beyond the eve line to form a drip and shall be securely nailed in place with a roll of nails, 1½" above the outer edge spaced 4" on centers.

10. Proceed with Celotex-El Rey or approved equal 215-lb. Thick Butt shingles (color to be selected and approved).

13. All existing flashing shall be protected for re-use and shall be renewed where necessary. Where metal counter flashing exists it shall be lifted and a 12" wide layer of 65-lb. smooth roofing shall be embedded in a solid base of plastic cement extending up under the counter flashing. Composition shingles shall be embedded in plastic cement at the angle and be flashed and the counter flashing returned to its original position.

14. Where no counter flashing exists against a metal parapet wall or buttress cap, a 12" strip of 65-lb. smooth roofing shall be embedded in plastic cement and flashed with plastic cement at the angle and on top of the composition roofing to make a water tight joint.

15. The gutters are to be cleaned and made water tight at all joints by caulking the inside with plastic cement. The ridge shall be individual hip and ridge shingles with an exposure not to exceed 5" laid against the weather or prevailing winds and no top nailing.

16. The work shall be continuous from start to finish and shall be done only during favorable weather conditions as required for proper application of the roofing and to insure protection of the building interior and contents against leaks in the event of rain.

17. TIME ELEMENT. Work shall start not before July 24th and be completed not later than August 31st.

18. Due care and caution shall be exercised to protect people, buildings and shrubs against injury and damage.

Anna Harbolt

Mrs. Anna Mary Harbolt died on Sunday in a local hospital after a long illness. She was born in Glenwood, Iowa, on January 23, 1892.

Mrs. Harbolt, with her husband Adrian S. Harbolt, who survives her, came to live in Carmel in 1923. The house which they occupied at that time, on Mission Street near Twelfth Avenue, has continued to be the Harbolt family home for 34 years.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Harbolt is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Harry Leonard, and two sons, Thomas E. and Adrian L. Harbolt, all Carmel residents; and four brothers, William Rishell of San Francisco, Edgar, Thomas and Clifford Rishell of Oakland. Clifford Rishell is mayor of Oakland. Mrs. Harbolt is also survived by several cousins and grandchildren.

Private family services were held Tuesday morning in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea Crematorium.

Friends wishing to make contributions in memory of Mrs. Harbolt may do so in the form of donations to the National Arthritis Foundation.

Dene Denny Carries On Festival Ideals

success has been termed, monumental, and during this week many will pay tribute to Dene Denny, and to the memory of the greatly beloved Hazel Watrous, co-founder with Miss Denny of the Festival, and the Denny-Watrous Management.

Success secrets are always intriguing. Dene Denny's many faceted career almost defies journalistic brevity. But one musical watch-word might do, Tempo! Translated, it means unremitting hard work in devotion to an honest achievement.

A scholar of high attainment, Dene Denny has, through the years, never ceased to anticipate each year's Festival as a fresh and new adventure. With high standard, established from the beginning, the scope of music has mounted each year, until today the Carmel Bach Festival is world renowned.

We of Carmel like to think of Dene Denny as 'ours'. But she isn't just ours, she is a first citizen of the great unboundaried world of music. Brilliant, gentle, completely lacking in personal vanity, Dene Denny "walks in beauty" and from her generous hands the beauty overflows to us all.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

How consistent prayer, based on spiritual understanding of God, brings health and freedom will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson - Sermon on "Sacrament" is the Golden Text from Matthew (6:6): "Thou, when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret; and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly."

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (4:3-5): "What we most need is the prayer of fervent desire for growth in grace, expressed in patience, meekness, love, and good deeds."

The following will be among passages read from the Bible (Psalms 19:14): "Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart, be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord, my strength and my redeemer."

Church Needs Rummage

The Reverend G. E. Ellis, pastor of the Seaside Baptist Church, is asking people of Carmel to donate articles for his church's Rummage Sale on Friday and Saturday. Clothing is especially desired. Donations of any kind will be picked up by church members if those wishing to give rummage will call FR 2-0847.

ALADDIN IN CARMEL

Mr. Winter, the proprietor of THE VILLAGE JEWELER, has received the following clipping, written by a roving reporter who was greatly taken with the array of wondrous things in his Dolores Street shop.

"Aladdin, lost in his cave and putting out his hand to the trees which bore the fruits of glorious color and fashioned of precious stones, was no more astounded than is the Carmel visitor who just happens into the 'ear-ring' shop. It can't be, one thinks, on being told that there is a place whose sole stock in trade is ear-rings. It is altogether unlikely that a merchant would say, 'This one thing I do', and then stick to ear-rings, of all things.

"And it isn't quite that way, really, because there are a few—a very few—other bits of jewelry to be found in this little cave. But these are far outshown by the main item, a piece de resistance which whets but never satisfies the appetite.

"Recently a New York salesman unloaded his sample cases before the doorway of this small establishment. He came as missionary to unknown parts, for isn't Carmel, California, a tiny hinterland village which tries h a r d but doesn't quite know how? On stepping inside, he fell back, dismayed. 'Oh, no!' was his shout of disbelief. There was no need for missionary work here—not in his department, anyhow.

"'The Village Jeweler', whose astute owners have collected all this loot and put it under one roof, literally has the largest and most surprising display of ear-rings in the United States. No foolin'. And it takes a mighty stout-hearted woman to pass up the feast.

"Did your grandmother o w n some beautifully wrought bracelets of soft gold, with classic designs running through the pattern? And, having had these appraised, have you taken them down to the bank for safe keeping? You can match them here in ear-rings, and at a painless price. Persons knowing the value of Grandma's keep-sakes will be properly impressed at the ear-rings you have chosen to go with them, and you can save the price of an extra safety deposit box.

"Every color of the spectrum, softly muted, is here, in ascending or descending scale, as to hues and shades and tints. If it's azure or lapis Lazuli or rose or emerald or amethyst or topaz or gold or silver you prefer, you mention it. At once you find yourself in the predicament of the fellow who likes pie and is let loose in the cafeteria where the chef has out-done himself this day with apple and peach and cherry and lemon and chocolate and gooseberry and blueberry and raisin and custard and currant and squash and mince. He can't eat them all but he's happier than larks in the pop-corn.

"There are whole trays of each color, quite by itself. And these range in style from what you would wear to your Grand-Aunt Emma's tea for the ladies' knitting group to something dazzling for a night on the town in company with six drunken sailors. You accept a lapful of jewels from the trusting soul who is the proprietor and have yourself a big time. All HE has to do is hope your check won't bounce.

"There is something barbaric in almost every female. She 'hates' jewelry, maybe, but when she says 'jewelry' she almost never means little things to stick in her ears. Count the number of women you see who are not wearing brooches, bracelets, rings, necklaces or tiaras but who are wearing ear-rings. That's because The Little Woman feels kind of undressed without them. The Village Jewelers is for the likes of her. And it's worth the trip — from ANY distance."—Adv.
